With more than 26 years in the industry, Diane brings to the table a truly unique combination of an International corporate background, extensive real estate experience and a deep understanding of rural and recreational properties. Together, these have served her well in working with hundreds of clients to buy and sell Colorado real estate.

Diane has roots in Illinois and traveled extensively in the US and Europe. She lived in Oregon, Arizona, and Oklahoma before she found her passion for Pagosa Springs. There, her traveling days ended and she discovered her ideal mountain home and stayed.

Today, Diane is one of the top-producing realtors® in Archuleta County. Her record is a testament to her inherent attention to detail and professionalism, as well as a deep knowledge of the area inventory – both on and off the market.

In her free time, Diane is an adventurer at heart. Along with her husband, she enjoys horseback riding, hiking, and camping in the high mountains with their dogs and horses.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT DIANE

"My husband and I were so fortunate to find Diane! She was incredibly helpful throughout the entire purchasing process, giving us lots of support whenever we needed it. She was extremely organized and kept on top of everything to ensure closing went as planned. Even after closing, she continued to make herself available for questions and wanted to be sure we were happy with our new home (which we were!!). Can't say enough good about her, would give her our very highest recommendation."

"Diane Burnett helped my husband and I buy our forever home in Pagosa Springs. She listened to what we wanted, took us to several beautiful homes that exceeded our expectations, and helped us through the entire process when we made our final decision. She was always available, got answers quickly for any questions or concerns we had, and made sure we were comfortable and settled when the process was complete and we were able to move in. Wonderful, efficient, responsive, professional, friendly. AMAZING!!!!"

Experience. Knowledge. Results.
